13:30 30' Closing remarks

Give the participants space to ask questions they might be interested in and provide them with answers. If you do not possess information regarding a particular answer, say that you are going to do more research. Research at home and provide them the information through a contact mean in the following week.

Later ask the participants:

- What did you know?
- What did you learn?
- What surprised you most?
- What are you going to tell your friends?
- What is a practice you will change after this lecture?

Later thank the participants for being part of the workshop and invite them to write to your organization if they need additional information in the future.
